Commissioners Ask Department Heads To Chop Expenses

The Pickaway County Commissioners yesterday stated they "leaned over backwards" to please all departments of the county in their 1959 appropriations.

The Commissioners asked all departments to "live" within their 1959 allotments and keep a continual check on their expenditures.

Commissioner Charles Morris, who assumed office January 1, said that if departments saw they were spending more than their appropriation, they should "slow down".

The Commissioners noted that 1959 appropriations are about equal with 1958 expenditures. Commissioner Board Chairman, Clyde Michel, said the county's financial statement would be completed by next week.

JUDGE GUY G. CLINE stated Friday, in regards to his appropriation increase of $2,880, that he had no objections to it and would try to get along with the appropriation made.

Judge Cline last year filed a writ of mandamus against the Commissioners to force them to allot his department more money. He was successful and this year's appropriation was equal to his increased amount of 1958.

Judge Cline did state that his appropriation allowed no room for unforeseen emergencies and was less than what he could insist upon.

The County Clerk of Court's appropriation forced Clerk James Mowery to reduce an increase in salary given three of his secretaries effective January 1.

He was also ordered to lay off a fourth office employee. His present deputies' salaries were reduced as follows: Mrs. Sara Dresbach, from $265 to $250, Mrs. Lillian Cook, and Miss Leah Pettit, from $250 to $240.

Mowery's appropriation was dropped $1,420. The Recorder's office appropriation was reduced $1,700. Recorder Mrs. Florence Campbell stated she was voluntarily laying off Mrs. Julie Winner, effective February 1.

THE LONG-TIME recorder stated her office's re-indexing was almost completed and need for a third employee is gone.

Pickaway County Sheriff Charles Radcliff was to meet with the commissioners yesterday to ask for an increase in his employee salary allotment.

He stated he needs more men to

Big Business Rates Sex as Big Business

NEW YORK (AP)—Viewpoints expressed on a radio program indicate that sex has become big business in the world of big business.

Unidentified speakers on the program, "The Business of Sex," said that the use of call girls to help swing big deals for large corporations has become so widespread that some companies pay prostitutes by the month and others keep them on regular payrolls as part of public relations staffs.

The program, "recommended for adult listening only," was broadcast on the CBS network Monday night and narrated by Edward R. Murrow.

Girls described as prostitutes said anonymously they made as much as $25,000 a year through their deals with companies and did not pay income taxes.

One girl said that girls-for-hire actually get verbal agreements on deals for companies.

An unidentified corporation executive explained another aspect of company-financed prostitution. "The point is that I know that the buyer has spent the night with a prostitute that I have provided . . . in most cases the buyers are married, with families," he said.

"It sort of gives me a slight edge; well, we will not call it exactly blackmail . . . it is a good weapon to have."

Estimates of the number of prostitutes operating here ranged from 3,000 to 30,000. One publicist said even more use is made of call girls in Chicago, St. Louis, and Cleveland.

The Commissioners stated that the increase in the agriculture fund of $9,500 for a total of $27,650 was nearly the amount it expended last year.

County Engineer Henry McCrady pointed out yesterday that the item in the general fund named Highways was in actuality, his engineering department.

His department was appropriated $1,460 less than 1958. He also stated that money appropriated from the motor vehicle and gasoline tax fund had to meet with the approval of both the Engineer and the County Commissioners before any of it was spent.

THE DISAPPROVAL of either department on how the money is to be met out would result in the fund remaining stagnant.

County Treasurer Robert Colville granted his three employees a $10 raise, increasing their salaries from $240 to $250 per month.

Employees of the Treasurer's office are Mrs. Florence Fausnaugh, Mrs. Beatrice L. Meyers and Miss Marilyn Schumm.

Ohio Weather Is Miserable

Forecaster Expects No Immediate Relief

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miserable seemed the word for the weather in most of Ohio today, with snow and rain, sometimes mixed, making things generally uncomfortable for both pedestrians and motorists.

The Weather Bureau said a cold front that moved over Ohio Monday stopped as it reached central Kentucky during the night and started moving back toward Ohio early today. The result was widespread snow and rain.

The rain covered the entire area along the Ohio River from Cincinnati to Marietta and Bellaire, and north to Zanesville. The snow covered the central counties and was spreading northeast, sometimes with rain alternating with snow.

The Weather Bureau said that with the front traveling northward, temperatures will rise throughout the state. This morning, temperatures ranged from 17 at Toledo to 39 at Chesapeake. Cleveland had 28, Columbus 33 and Cincinnati 34.

The wet weather will continue tonight and Wednesday, the bureau said.

Below zero weather was the rule from east of the Rockies in Montana across North Dakota and northern Minnesota into Wisconsin. It was near zero in Michigan and northern sections of Illinois and Indiana.

Heavy snow warnings, with falls of five inches or more, were posted for the Oklahoma panhandle and southern Kansas into extreme west central Missouri. Snow was widespread from Montana to eastern Colorado and most of Nebraska and South Dakota while heavy falls were reported in parts of eastern Wyoming.

More snow fell in the snow-plagued sections of the Northeast. Forecasters said two to five inches of fresh snow may hit northern parts of Maine and New Hampshire.

Leo Porebski On Park Board

Leo P. Porebski, 37, of 290 Sunset Drive, today was named to the Circleville Park Commission by Mayor Ben H. Gordon.

Porebski replaces Peter Meshkoff who resigned the post because he is moving to Wilmington, Del.

The new member of the three-man board will serve a two-year term on the body, which has charge of the city's parks and playgrounds. Formation of the board was approved by voters last November. It opens the way for better control of park facilities and programs.

Porebski joins Otto Guenther, 451 E. Main St., and Edgar Webb, 109 Dunmore Road, on the board.

The three will meet shortly to elect a president and vice president and plan for the coming year.

First New-Tax Proposal Filed With Assembly

Bill Seeks To Levy Tariff on Soda Pop; 139 Measures Offered

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The money-hungry Ohio Legislature has received its first new-tax proposal—a penny a bottle on soft drinks, two cents if the bottle is bigger than 12 ounces.

The bill was introduced in the Ohio Senate Monday night by Sen. Julius Petrash (D-Cuyahoga). Petrash is chairman of the Senate Liquor Committee, but don't draw any hasty conclusions. He sponsored virtually the same bill in 1957 when he wasn't chairman.

Two years ago Petrash estimated the pop-tax bill would bring in 10 million dollars a year. It got nowhere in a Republican-controlled legislature.

All told, the two houses received 58 bills and three proposals for constitutional amendments as they met for their third week of work. The bill total stands now at 139 with 6½ weeks before introduction deadline, March 5.

The first of an expected parade of constitutional proposals to lift Ohio's "forever" ban on lotteries was offered in the House by Rep. Howard A. Fortney (D-Ashtabula). He would change the constitution to permit the Legislature to write laws governing bingo games operated by religious, charitable or fraternal groups.

Three Republican powers in the House—Minority Whip Kline L. Roberts of Columbus, Joseph T. Lady of Kenton and Louis J. Schneider Jr. of Cincinnati—proposed annual General Assembly sessions. It now meets every two years. This, also, was a proposed constitutional change.

The third constitutional proposal—seldom mentioned in recent years—would permit the governor to make item-by-item reductions in a Legislature-approved budget bill. The proposal offered by Rep. Fred Hoffman (R-Hamilton), also would give the governor authority to make section-by-section vetoes of any bill.

That matter has not been much in the public mind since former Gov. Martin L. Davis attempted some partial vetoes in the mid-thirties.

Briefly, these were other bills introduced to:

Increase the salary of the superintendent of insurance from $10,320 a year to $14,000—at the request of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. The head of the Insurance Department was left out on an earlier pay raise bill for the rest of the DiSalle Cabinet on a technicality.

Fix a $1-an-hour minimum wage in Ohio which now has no such general law.

Alaska Governor Is Reported in Critical Condition

SEATTLE (AP)—Alaska's Gov. William A. Egan was reported "extremely critical" today and an emergency operation was scheduled to relieve what surgeons said was complete paralysis of his bowels.

Egan, the first elected governor of the 49th state, was flown here Monday afternoon after failing to recover satisfactorily from a gall bladder operation in Juneau, Alaska, Jan. 6.

The gravity of his condition was not disclosed until morning.

Dr. Joel W. Baker, chief surgeon at Seattle's Virginia Mason Hospital, said Egan had developed a bowel obstruction and "complete paralysis" in complications which followed surgery two weeks ago.

Dr. Baker described the 44-year-old Democrat's chances of recovery as "somewhat less than 50-50."

Hope Is Waning For Missing Boy

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—Weary searchers have almost given up hope that 3-year-old Willard Eugene Jones Jr. is alive.

The boy wandered off into dense Ozark timber around his farm home Saturday afternoon. The temperature dropped to 19 degrees that night.

Sheriff Neil Brown called off the organized search temporarily Monday night. But determined volunteers, including 500 soldiers from nearby Ft. Leonard Wood, were to make another effort today, despite forecasts of freezing rain and snow.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jones Sr., and their eight other children have stayed close to the home, waiting for word.

Ike Gives Nation Choice: Self-Discipline or Curbs

HAS TRIAL WAS 'ON'—Those war crimes trials have been postponed throughout Cuba again after Fidel Castro invited U.S. Senators and Representatives to witness them. An example of the "on-again-off-again" nature of the trials is shown here as former Batista army Cpl. Jose Rodriguez is comforted by a priest after a tribunal had sentenced him to death. He was given a reprieve at the last minute because the execution order had not officially been given. The next day he was shot to death.

Samuel Succeeds Meshkoff As President of Kiwanis

Dr. Richard W. Samuel, 890 N. Court St., last night was installed as President of the Circleville Kiwanis Club at its annual installation banquet held in St. Philip's Parish House.

Samuel was installed after Peter J. Meshkoff, 921 Circle Drive, held the shortest tenure as a Kiwanis president in the history of the local organization.

Meshkoff, 41, held office long enough to be installed and then resigned due to his transfer to Wilmington, Del. The former works engineer at the local DuPont plant will be on special assignment reporting to the assistant director of manufacturing.

The father of four was vice president; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barber, Columbus Linden, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Essex, Columbus Westside.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill, Columbus, past Ohio Kiwanis governor and Kiwanis High School Key Club president Thomas Greene and Sue Copeland.

MC MARION stated the evening's theme was, "Messing with Meshkoff". Judge A. M. Mer made the following installations: James B. Carr, past president; new directors, Roscoe Warren, Leo Porebski and Robert L. Steele;

Treasurer, Charles W. Kirkpatrick, and Secretary, Robert Wilson. Richard W. Penn made a plaque presentation to Carr for his excellent year as 1958 president.

Upon resigning Meshkoff stated in his farewell speech that Circleville was one of the friendliest towns he and his wife, Irene, had ever lived in.

Samuel, upon accepting the gavel of leadership from Carr said, "My wife, Lois, and I had the whole United States in which to settle. We chose Circleville and have never regretted our decision."

The 41-year-old dentist was educated at Ohio State University, joining Kiwanis in 1946. As a member of Kiwanis he has been chairman of most of its committees, a director, 10th Division Program chairman and vice president of the local club.

He is the father of four children. In addition to his Kiwanis membership, Samuel is a member of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce.

Driver Hurt As Car Skids

Paul Cooper, 19, Route 2, Circleville, suffered minor injuries in a one-car crash at 1:30 p. m. yesterday on Route 56 about nine miles northwest of here.

Cooper was taken to Berger Hospital for lacerations of the head and upper lip.

The driver told Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover that his eastbound car struck an icy spot, skidded into a ditch and struck a fence. He was taken to the hospital by Keith Bidwell, Route 2.

Deputy Hoover said the front and back of the car was damaged.

House Panel Eyes Ike's New Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee starts work on President Eisenhower's 77-billion-dollar budget today with two key members saying it can be cut.

But the general tenor of comments among Democrats—who hold large majorities in both House and Senate—indicated that Congress is more likely to raise than to decrease the total.

Maurice Stans, director of the Budget Bureau, and Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson were called before the committee to explain details of Eisenhower's spending plans for the year starting July 1.

Both Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo.) and Rep. John Taber of New York, senior committee Republican, said they believed the budget could be cut.

They never saw a budget that couldn't be cut, they said in separate statements. But they didn't say where or how much. The committee will work several months on those questions.

Following today's meeting of the 50-member group, the committee will break up into subcommittees to start whipping out shape more than a dozen separate bills providing the money to finance the budget.

The first of the subcommittee, and the largest, already has directed Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy to provide later this week details of the military portion of the budget.

About 60 per cent of the projected spending is for defense, with emphasis on missiles and space exploration.

That might not be enough, commented Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex.), head of the Defense subcommittee. Mahon said he feared the defense budget "may have been shaved too close."

Cannon minced no words. He called the budget a political document based on "contingencies which no one expects to materialize."

He referred to Eisenhower's estimate that an expanding prosperity will add nine billion dollars to the revenue totals estimated for this year.

Numerous other Democrats contended with Cannon that the estimate was more optimistic than the economy now seems able to support.

Other officials, including administration experts, said the estimate is realistic—even conservative—in the light of booming corporate profits and a continuation of the business upswing.

Argentina Cracks Down On Strikers

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—In its toughest action so far to break a nationwide general strike, the Argentine government ordered all Buenos Aires transport workers to report for work today or face military courts.

The trolley, bus and subway operators were drafted into the army as the strike showed signs of collapsing. It began Sunday under the leadership of followers of exiled dictator Juan D. Peron and Communists.

The two groups had hoped to force the government to back down on its austerity program by granting another round of wage increases. The program is designed to check inflation and rebuild Argentina's economy from the chaos created by Peron to buy workers' support.

One government official pointed out the strike already had failed in one objective: to force President Arturo Frondizi to cancel a two-week state visit to the United States.

Frondizi arrived in Charleston, S.C., Monday and was to fly on to Washington today for economic talks with President Eisenhower and other U.S. officials.

Frondizi said in Charleston he was not concerned about the strike situation.

Some 7,000 workers seized the government-owned Buenos Aires meat packing plant Saturday to protest plans to sell the money-losing business to private operators. Police and troops used tanks and tear gas to rout them.

U.S. Economic Report Sent To Congress

Message Is Labeled Alarm Bell to All in Anti-Inflation Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the nation faces a grave choice—either self-discipline to prevent a damaging inflation, or government controls "which are alien to our traditional way of life."

Eisenhower sent to Congress his economic report, third and last of the major annual messages. It announced a virtually full recovery from the recession, forecast record income and production in 1959, and held out hopes of tax reduction reasonably soon thereafter. It asked 31 laws to help "assure a vigorous growth of our economy."

But the message clearly was meant as an alarm bell to rally labor, business and consumers to unite with the government in defending the value of the dollar.

Wage rises that run ahead of increases in output per worker, Eisenhower said, push up prices, hurt sales and impair American competition in world markets.

Thus excessive wage costs obstruct the creation of new jobs, endanger the jobs of those now working, and, "In short, they are, in the end, self-defeating."

The President appealed to industry to redouble its efforts to hold the price line and "wage a ceaseless war against costs." He urged consumers to shop carefully for price and quality.

He called on Congress, for the third time in a fortnight, to abide by the spending cuts in the 77-billion-dollar budget which he sent to the Capitol Monday for the year starting July 1.

This, he told the legislators, would be "the most important single step in discharging the government's responsibility to help preserve the stability of prices and costs through the prudent management of its own affairs."

Eisenhower also announced formation of a new Committee on Government Activities Affecting Prices and Costs, probably to be headed by Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors.

This body will be charged with delving into all government programs having an impact on the economy, with the aim of recommending any changes needed to minimize the inflationary impact of the government's massive spending.

If government income and spending can be matched in the year starting next July 1, and if tax collections are swelled by the expected growth of income and business profits, Eisenhower said, then — "A significant additional step in tax reduction and reform can be taken in the reasonably foreseeable future."

More directly than in the past the President aimed his exhortations at unions entering wage negotiations. "Leaders of labor unions have a particularly critical role to play, in view of the great power lodged in their hands," he asserted.

"Self-discipline and restraint are essential if reasonable stability of prices is to be reached within the framework of the free competitive institutions."

"If the desired results cannot be achieved under our arrangements for determining wages and prices, the alternatives are either inflation, which would damage our economy and work hardships on millions of Americans, or controls, which are alien to our traditional way of life and which would be an obstacle to the nation's economic growth and improvement."

House Panel Eyes Ike's New Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee starts work on President Eisenhower's 77-billion-dollar budget today with two key members saying it can be cut.

But the general tenor of comments among Democrats—who hold large majorities in both House and Senate—indicated that Congress is more likely to raise than to decrease the total.

Maurice Stans, director of the Budget Bureau, and Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson were called before the committee to explain details of Eisenhower's spending plans for the year starting July 1.

Both Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) and Rep. John Taber of New York, senior committee Republican, said they believed the budget could be cut.

They never saw a budget that couldn't be cut, they said in separate statements. But they didn't say where or how much. The committee will work several months on those questions.

Following today's meeting of the 50-member group, the committee will break up into subcommittees to start whipping into shape more than a dozen separate bills providing the money to finance the budget.

The first of the subcommittee, and the largest, already has directed Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy to provide later this week details of the military portion of the budget.

About 60 per cent of the projected spending is for defense, with emphasis on missiles and space exploration.

That might not be enough, commented Rep. George Mahon (D-Tex.), head of the Defense subcommittee. Mahon said he feared the defense budget "may have been shaved too close."

Cannon minced no words. He called the budget a political document based on "contingencies which no one expects to materialize."

He referred to Eisenhower's estimate that an expanding prosperity will add nine billion dollars to the revenue totals estimated for this year.

Numerous other Democrats contended with Cannon that the estimate was more optimistic than the economy now seems able to support.

Other officials, including administration experts, said the estimate is realistic—even conservative—in the light of booming corporation profits and a continuation of the business upswing.

Argentina Cracks Down On Strikers

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—In its toughest action so far to break a nationwide general strike, the Argentine government ordered all Buenos Aires transport workers to report for work today or face military courts.

The trolley, bus and subway operators were drafted into the army as the strike showed signs of collapsing. It began Sunday under the leadership of followers of exiled dictator Juan D. Peron and Communists.

The two groups had hoped to force the government to back down on its austerity program by granting another round of wage increases. The program is designed to check inflation and rebuild Argentina's economy from the chaos created by Peron to buy workers' support.

One government official pointed out the strike already had failed in one objective: to force President Arturo Frondizi to cancel a two-week state visit to the United States.

Frondizi arrived in Charleston, S.C., Monday and was to fly on to Washington today for economic talks with President Eisenhower and other U.S. officials.

Frondizi said in Charleston he was not concerned about the strike situation.

Some 7,000 workers seized the government-owned Buenos Aires meat packing plant Saturday to protest plans to sell the money-losing business to private operators. Police and troops used tanks and tear gas to rout them.

U.S. Economic Report Sent To Congress

Message Is Labeled Alarm Bell To All in Anti-Inflation Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the nation faces a grave choice—either self-discipline to prevent a damaging inflation, or government controls "which are alien to our traditional way of life."

Eisenhower sent to Congress his economic report, third and last of the major annual messages. It announced a virtually full recovery from the recession, forecast record income and production in 1959, and held out hopes of tax reduction reasonably soon thereafter. It asked 31 laws to help "assure a vigorous growth of our economy."

But the message clearly was meant as an alarm bell to rally labor, business and consumers to unite with the government in deflating the value of the dollar.

Wage rises that run ahead of increases in output per worker, Eisenhower said, push up prices, hurt sales and impair American competition in world markets.

Thus excessive wage costs obstruct the creation of new jobs, endanger the jobs of those now working, and: "In short, they are, in the end, self-defeating."

The President appealed to industry to redouble its efforts to hold the price line and "wage a ceaseless war against costs." He urged consumers to shop carefully for price and quality.

He called on Congress, for the third time in a fortnight, to abide by the spending cuts in the 77-billion-dollar budget which he sent to the Capitol Monday for the year starting July 1.

This, he told the legislators, would be "the most important single step in discharging the government's responsibility to help preserve the stability of prices and costs through the prudent management of its own affairs."

Eisenhower also announced formation of a new Committee on Government Activities Affecting Prices and Costs, probably to be headed by Dr. Raymond J. Saulnier, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

This body will be charged with delving into all government programs having an impact on the economy, with the aim of recommending any changes needed to minimize the inflationary impact of the government's massive spending.

If government income and spending can be matched in the year starting next July 1, and if tax collections are swelled by the expected growth of income and business profits, Eisenhower said, then — "A significant additional step in tax reduction and reform can be taken in the reasonably foreseeable future."

More directly than in the past the President aimed his exhortations at unions entering wage negotiations. "Leaders of labor unions have a particularly critical role to play, in view of the great power lodged in their hands," he asserted.

"Self-discipline and restraint are essential if reasonable stability of prices is to be reached within the framework of the free competitive institutions."

"If the desired results cannot be achieved under our arrangements for determining wages and prices, the alternatives are either inflation, which would damage our economy and work hardships on millions of Americans, or controls, which are alien to our traditional way of life and which would be an obstacle to the nation's economic growth and improvement."

GENEVA (AP)—Communist observers welcome the West's new concession on suspension of nuclear weapon tests but don't consider it a green light to conclusion of a treaty. Peiping radio said today.

Icy Conditions Cause Mishaps

A combination of rain, snow, ice and slush has caused a series of minor accidents on city streets and highways in the county.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover said he investigated four minor auto accidents in the county this morning, all caused by treacherous highway conditions. He said no injuries were reported.

City police said icy streets caused an unusual accident at High St. and Ruth Ave. yesterday at 5 p. m.

Patrolman Donald Adams said a car driven by Mary Johnson, 58, Circleville, struck an icy spot at the intersection and crashed into the home of Milo M. Wise, 401 Ruth Ave. No one was injured.

Patrolman Adams said the car slid over a bank and crashed into the west side of the house, causing minor damage to the home. The auto was extensively damaged, he added.

Mayor-Slugging Police Chief Says He Will Retire

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The police chief who smacked the mayor on the head with a pistol butt will go into retirement next month.

That is in Lowellville, where Chief Thomas Augustine, 49, will start a vacation Thursday, return for a few days and then retire Feb. 16.

He and Mayor Alfred Melillo, who had appointed him chief three years ago, had an argument Thursday about holding special classes for patrolmen.

The mayor said the chief fired the pistol into the air several times and hit him on the head with it. The wound required 20 stitches. Last Friday, the chief was notified of a 30-day suspension. But he refused to be suspended.

Cat Wobbles Out After Long Trip

SECAUCUS, N.J. (AP)—Anybody lose an orange-eyed cat sometime around Dec. 29?

It could have been Los Angeles or San Francisco or Phoenix or Fort Worth or Elizabeth City, N.C. or Middleburg, Va.

The cat wobbled out of Ed Baskevill's big van here Friday when the driver opened up the back of his truck for the first time since Dec. 29.

Baskerville, 36, had packed the van in Los Angeles.

firm against Soviet pressures over Berlin. He charged that the cold war is still on in the State Department.

State Department officials were disappointed that the Soviet visitor came up with no concessions in Soviet policy on Berlin and other German issues.

Mikoyan had his own explanation of that as he made his final appearance at a big Soviet Embassy reception Monday night.

"Why should we make concessions if no one else is making any?" he asked a questioning newsmen. "Everybody is talking about concessions but no one is making them."

A highlight of the embassy reception was the unannounced appearance of Van Cliburn, the Texan who won an international piano competition in Moscow last spring.

Cliburn played an impromptu recital at Mikoyan's urging, then joined the obviously pleased official for nearly an hour of private conversation.

Addressing the National Press Club, Mikoyan said he had found in two weeks of travel around the United States that the American people, including businessmen, are "tired of the cold war" and want peace in the world.

Sen. Kennedy Offers New Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) today unveiled a new labor-management control bill he said was specifically aimed at practices of such figures as Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

Kennedy, in a speech prepared for the Senate, called the measure "a strong, effective reform bill which would virtually put Hoffa and his associates out of business."

The new bill is quite similar to the Kennedy-Ives bill which passed the Senate 88-1 last year but died in the House. That measure was sponsored by Kennedy and former Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.).

Its key provisions would set up an election code for all unions, require public financial accounting by unions, fix criminal penalties for mishandling of union funds or taunts, and make some changes in Taft-Hartley law sections objected to by both labor and management.

Kennedy emphasized in his speech that "this is primarily a labor-management reform bill, dealing with problems of dishonest racketeering—it is not a bill on industrial relations, dealing with the problems of collective bargaining and economic power."

Kennedy got his bill in line of the administration's bill, being put together by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, and also a measure to be sponsored by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

Both of these are expected to contain provisions unacceptable to labor.

Adams Family Receives Gifts

Residents of Wayne Twp. recently held a community shower for the Delbert Adams family, who were burned out of their home in a disastrous fire on January 4.

The shower resulted in the Adams' family receiving many newly purchased items including bed clothing, kitchen pots and pans, personal clothing, an ironing board and iron, towels, dishes, groceries and even money.

The Adams home, rented from and located on the Richard Simkins farm, on the Kinderhook-Frankfort Road, nine miles south-west of here, was totally destroyed.

Contents of the $12,000 house were valued at $4,000, which were completely lost. The fire was thought to have started in the house's chimney.

An appeal was made today by Mrs. Willard Carter, Route 2, for clothing and possibly furniture for the Adams family. Mrs. Carter will pick up the gifts if called at GR 4-3287.

Mrs. Adams wears a size 24½ dress; Adams wears, a 15 shirt and 30-32 waist, trousers; daughter, Betty, wears a 24 skirt and size 10 dress, and daughter, Linda, is age seven.

Icy Conditions Cause Mishaps

A combination of rain, snow, ice and slush has caused a series of minor accidents on city streets and highways in the county.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover said he investigated four minor auto accidents in the county this morning, all caused by treacherous highway conditions. He said no injuries were reported.

City police said icy streets caused an unusual accident at High St. and Ruth Ave. yesterday at 5 p. m.

Patrolman Donald Adams said a car driven by Mary Johnson, 58, Circleville, struck an icy spot at the intersection and crashed into the home of Milo M. Wise, 401 Ruth Ave. No one was injured.

Patrolman Adams said the car slid over a bank and crashed into the west side of the house, causing minor damage to the home. The auto was extensively damaged, he added.

6 Children Die As Fire Sweeps Home in Maine

ASHLAND, Maine (AP)—Six children died early today in one of Maine's worst fire tragedies.

Four other members of Luther Tripp's family and two boarders escaped a flash fire that swiftly destroyed their rural home. The parents were injured in heroic rescue attempts.

The dead: Edna, 15; Ella, 12; Jeannie, 9; Alfred, 4; Barbara, 2; and Carolyn Tripp, 2.

Tripp, a 35-year-old lumber mill worker, and his 34-year-old wife Muriel, suffered severe burns. Mrs. Tripp also lost a lot of blood from a gash on one leg.

Rebecca, their 8-month-old daughter, was burned and suffered smoke inhalation.

Also burned, after two attempts to rescue some of the children, was Stanley Hickley, 20, Mrs. Tripp's half-brother.

Luther Jr., 10, and boarder Blynn Cox, 24, were unharmed.

Ohio Turncoat Seeks Return with New Wife

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A Marietta, Ohio, man who, after being captured by the Communists in the Korean War elected to go to Red China, wants to come home if he can bring his Chinese wife with him, a returning Korean War turncoat said Monday.

Richard G. Corden, 31, of East Providence, R. I., said former Sgt. Scott L. Rush of Marietta wants to return to America with his wife. Corden is the 10th turncoat to return to the U.S. Ten are still in China.

Mikoyan Leaves, Pledging Peace

Before boarding a train for New York, where he will take a plane, Mikoyan told reporters:

"Please convey to the population of Washington and to all the people I met in the United States my gratitude for their very warm welcome and hospitality and their desire for peace and friendship with the Soviet Union. And when I arrive in my country I will convey to high people all the best wishes and the desire for peace of the American people."

Mikoyan evidently was disappointed that he could not budge Eisenhower administration leaders from their restrictions on Soviet trade and their policy of standing

Native Dies In Auto Mishap

Charles Robinson, 32, former employee of Paul's Dairy Store, 111 W. Main St., died at 8 a. m. yesterday after being involved in an automobile accident.

Mayor-Slugging Police Chief Says He Will Retire

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—The police chief who snatched the mayor on the head with a pistol butt will go into retirement next month.

That is in Lowellville, where Chief Thomas Augustine, 49, will start a vacation Thursday, return for a few days and then retire Feb. 16.

He and Mayor Alfred Melillo, who had appointed him chief three years ago, had an argument Thursday about holding special classes for patrolmen.

The mayor said the chief fired the pistol into the air several times and hit him on the head with it. The wound required 20 stitches.

Last Friday, the chief was notified of a 30-day suspension. But he refused to be suspended.

Monday he apologized to the mayor, in the presence of several City Council members, and handed in his resignation. As he has been on the force for 23 years, it amounts to a retirement.

Van Wert Cleric Gets High Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Rev. Austin R. Whitmore of Van Wert was named Toledo district superintendent for the Methodist Church today. He succeeds Dr. W. Arthur Milne, who will become superintendent of Bethesda Hospital in Cincinnati Feb. 1.

Ohio Methodist Bishop Hazen G. Werner announced the appointment. Dr. Whitmore has been superintendent of the Defiance district since June, 1957. He is chairman of the Ohio Conference Board of Education and the Ohio Area Study and Promotion Commission.

Both of these are expected to contain provisions unacceptable to labor.

Cat Wobbles Out After Long Trip

SECAUCUS, N.J. (AP)—Anybody lose an orange-eyed cat sometime around Dec. 29?

It could have been Los Angeles or San Francisco or Phoenix or Fort Worth or Elizabeth City, N.C. or Middleburg, Va.

The cat wobbled out of Ed Baskerville's big van here Friday when the driver opened up the back of his truck for the first time since Dec. 29.

Baskerville, 36, had packed the van in Los Angeles.

firm against Soviet pressures over Berlin. He charged that the cold war is still on in the State Department.

State Department officials were disappointed that the Soviet visitor came up with no concessions in Soviet policy on Berlin and other German issues.

Mikoyan had his own explanation of that as he made his final appearance at a big Soviet Embassy reception Monday night.

"Why should we make concessions if no one else is making any concessions?" he asked a questioning newsman. "Everybody is talking about concessions but no one is making them."

A highlight of the embassy reception was the unannounced appearance of Van Cliburn, the Texan who won an international piano competition in Moscow last spring.

Cliburn played an impromptu recital at Mikoyan's urging, then joined the obviously pleased official for nearly an hour of private conversation.

Addressing the National Press Club, Mikoyan said he had found in two weeks of travel around the United States that the American people, including businessmen, are "tired of the cold war" and want peace in the world.

Sen. Kennedy Offers New Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) today unveiled a new labor-management control bill he said was specifically aimed at practices of such figures as Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

Kennedy, in a speech prepared for the Senate, called the measure "a strong, effective reform bill which would virtually put Hoffa and his associates out of business."

The new bill is quite similar to the Kennedy-Ives bill which passed the Senate 88-1 last year but died in the House. That measure was sponsored by Kennedy and former Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.).

Its key provisions would set up an election code for all unions, require public financial accounting by unions, fix criminal penalties for mishandling of union funds or books, and make some changes in Taft-Hartley law sections objected to by both labor and management.

Kennedy emphasized in his speech that "this is primarily a labor-management reform bill, dealing with problems of dishonest racketeering—it is not a bill on industrial relations, dealing with the problems of collective bargaining and economic power."

Kennedy got his bill in ahead of the administration's bill, being put together by Secretary of Labor Mitchell, and also a measure to be sponsored by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate Labor-Management Committee.

Both of these are expected to contain provisions unacceptable to labor.

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Norway is gravely concerned about Soviet nuclear explosions in the arctic which have produced strong radioactive fallout on this country.

Foreign Minister Halvard Lange said today.

Lange told Parliament that there is no reason to believe the Soviet Union has failed to take possible precautions but such variables as wind and weather "may nevertheless result in accidents."

Sohio commented the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department for its swift and efficient action in bringing the two cases here to a satisfactory conclusion.

Adams Family Receives Gifts

Residents of Wayne Twp. recently held a community shower for the Delbert Adams family, who were burned out of their home in a disastrous fire on January 4.

The shower resulted in the Adams' family receiving many newly purchased items including bed clothing, kitchen pots and pans, personal clothing, an ironing board and iron, towels, dishes, groceries and even money.

The Adams home, rented from and located on the Richard Simkins farm, on the Kinderhook-Frankfort Road, nine miles southwest of here, was totally destroyed.

Contents of the $12,000 house were valued at $4,000, which were completely lost. The fire was thought to have started in the house's chimney.

An appeal was made today by Mrs. Willard Carter, Route 2, for clothing and possibly furniture for the Adams family. Mrs. Carter will pick up the gifts if called at GR 4-3287.

Mrs. Adams wears a size 24 1/2 dress; Adams wears, a 15 shirt and 30-32 waist, trousers; daughter, Betty, wears a 24 skirt and size 10 dress, and daughter, Linda, is age seven.

The family, now residing near Leisville, is in dire need of furniture. At present they don't even have a bed.

This is the second fire in over a year to occur on the Simkins farm. As again this year, the Carters were instrumental in obtaining household goods and clothing for last year's burned out family.

Men Receive Sohio Awards For Info on Crimes Here

Two local men recently were awarded $750 by the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio for their help in solving a robbery and a burglary in Pickaway County.

The Sohio checks were presented to William Kadel, Williamsport, and Alvin Hettinger, Tilton. The awards were made by John Kidwell, Sohio Salesman for this area, during a brief ceremony held in the office of Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff.

Kadel, owner of Mom and Pop's Place on Route 22 east of Williamsport, was presented a check for $500 for information which led to the apprehension of two men who robbed him at gun point several weeks ago.

Hettinger received $250 for providing the sheriff with information which led to the arrest of two men accused of burglarizing the Fred Ways Service Station at Mound and Main Sts.

Both men involved in the armed robbery were sentenced to prison. One of the men involved in the burglary received a prison sentence and the other was placed on probation.

The awards here are part of the Sohio Shield Plan which serves as a recognition for the excellent work of various state law enforcement agencies. It also is an effort to better assist these agencies in the future.

According to Kidwell, the Shield Plan is part of Sohio's objective to fulfill to the maximum its responsibilities as a good citizen. He said it also is a part of Sohio's program of service to the more than 4,000 independent dealers, distributors and operators in the state who are associated with the company in the sale and distribution of Sohio products.

The program offers the following rewards for information, arrest and conviction of persons who are brought to trial and found guilty of these crimes: $250 for burglary of a Sohio station; $500 where criminal has robbed or held up a Sohio dealer by use of arms, violence or threats of violence; $1,000 for robbery in which the dealer has suffered physical injury as a result of the holdup; and $5,000 in instances where death resulted to the victim.

PUPPET EXPERT — Philip Moore, 304 S. Court St., is working on a clay model of "Windy, the horse", a puppet he made for a Lexington, Ky. television station. Moore works in the basement of his home, but hopes to construct a studio near the Scioto River soon. Hanging at right are a pair of marionettes, waiting to be dressed. (Staff Photo)

Philip Moore International Authority on Art of Puppets

It's possible that no one in the United States can match the background of Philip Moore in the fine art of puppetry.

Moore, 38, of 304 S. Court St., is a puppetry authority in the true sense of the word. He's been in the business since the sixth or seventh grade, along about 1933 or '34.

The list of his experience in the field of puppets, marionettes and marottes would reach from here to Williamsport.

Included is study in France and Germany.

Just last week Moore created a puppet for a television station in Lexington, Ky. It was the second one for that particular station.

Moore is not a full-time puppeteer at present. He is owner of the Tally-Ho Carry-Out, on old Route 23 at the corner of Morris Road. Incidentally, he has some on display there.

BACK in early school days, Moore read a do-it-yourself book for boys. In it was a story on how to build a marionette. He built one. "Funny, I started out with the most difficult type of puppet," Moore said. With creation of that first miniature figure, Moore found his niche.

He gave shows all through high school. He was in demand for church events, school gatherings and at club meetings.

After high school Moore enrolled in the Fine Arts College at Ohio State University. While there he took a course in puppetry, and was a member of the ROTC.

Came 1941 and the war, Moore was graduated one day and was in the Army the next.

During his college days he gave shows all over Central Ohio—one at the State Fair. He became a charter member of the Columbus Puppetry Guild.

His service work was not connected with puppetry until after the war, when he was shifted to the Special Services Division. As a procurer of shows for the Army, he booked as many puppet shows as he could find in Germany. "I'll bet those guys got tired of puppets," he said.

Moore whipped back and forth across the Atlantic a couple of times following the war, then went to Paris to study fine arts under the GI Bill. He specialized in painting, sculptor and marionettes.

The critical eye of master painter Fernand Leger guided Moore in the field of painting. That was at the Academie Montmartre. He also studied under Andre Lhote, one of the founders of Cubism.

MEANWHILE, he was working with Marcel Temporal, president of the "Compagnon de Marionnettes", the French equivalent of the national puppeteers' association. He played in traveling shows, bistros and anywhere else he could get work, to supplement his GI Bill payments. At one time he had his own show "Pantomime". "It was a pantomime show. I spoke French poorly."

Moore returned to the United States in 1954, after some marital difficulties. He left most of his work in Paris, expecting to go back, but he never got back.

For a period he traveled with the "Kingsland Marionettes", a husband and wife team based in Vermont. He also taught at their summer camp for professional puppeteers in Vermont. Then he handled a puppet show for a Pittsburgh department store, during the Christmas season. "A real killer, we had shows every 15 minutes. I just got tired out and came home."

At a national convention of puppeteers, Moore gave a demonstration of marottes. He developed a new technique for these unique pieces. They are a head, similar to a ventriloquist's dummy, mounted on a stick. The marotte's clothing is made large enough so that the operator's arms will fit underneath and his hands are poked out the sides through sleeves to become the marotte's hands.

Marionettes are operated by strings from above and puppets are operated by hand from behind a screen. In America they're all called puppets. Moore makes puppets, writes scripts, designs stages and scenery. He develops the entire show, from curtain to curtain.

Now, he's marking time with his puppetry. He has no show at present. He will make puppets for professionals, if asked. Frankly, he would like to return to his puppetry full time, and hopes to some day.

The genial, shock-haired artist currently is preparing to build a studio over along the Scioto River, near Sturm & Dillard. When he has it completed ("with plenty of windows and light") he'll turn to giving lessons, in puppetry and sculpture.

He also plans to experiment with puppets in films and will make shows for professionals.

AFTER BEING dormant for a time, Moore's puppet talent is starting to thrive again. Circleville's Gary Brown, now program director for station WKYT-TV, Lexington, Ky., asked Moore to make a puppet for a show which started about Thanksgiving time.

Moore turned out a white Siamese cat with red polka dots. The station conducted a contest to name the cat. "Purr-belle" won. About two weeks ago, Brown called Moore again. This time he needed a decrepit race horse.

The horse started on television January 12. He's a racy devil, with a line of gab, but never won a race. "Windy, the horse", apparently is a success already. So's Moore, with Lexington fans.

In his 20-plus years in puppetry Moore has turned out more than 600 different puppets. He's ready to make more, Moore is.

5 Cent Charge On Short Paid Mail Halted

Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today that he has ordered indefinite suspension of the five-cent charge on "short paid" mail (mail with insufficient postage).

The extension of the deferment has been ordered as a result of Congressional action designed to abolish the extra charge permanently by legislation.

Public Law 85-371, effective July 1, 1958, provided that a short paid charge in addition to the lawful postage should be collected from the addressee on delivery of mail not fully prepaid by the sender to cover the costs incurred. The five-cent charge was adopted to cover the costs.

However, under authority contained in the law, the Post Office Department, on Aug. 1, 1958 suspended the five-cent charge pending further study.

THIS SUSPENSION had been scheduled to terminate February 1, but will now be continued for an indefinite period, until a final Congressional decision on the matter is forthcoming, Summerfield explained.

The 5 cent short paid charge should not be confused with regular "postage due charges" for unpaid mail or mail bearing insufficient postage, Summerfield pointed out.

Postage due charges are not involved in the present deferment. For example, an ordinary first-class letter with a 3 cent stamp instead of the required 4 cent stamp is still subject to a penny postage due charge.

The possibility of Congressional action was called to the Postmaster General's attention by Representative Edward H. Rees of Kansas, a member of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee, who suggested an indefinite postponement until Congress had had an opportunity to act on the matter.

Elks Expect Big Turnout

A large turnout is expected tonight when Circleville Elks Lodge holds one of the most important meetings on its calendar.

A four-ly affair, the ceremonies will start at 8 p. m. and end with a lunch and social hour.

Of major importance will be signal honors for 22 Elks who have completed 35 years of membership and eight others who have been members 50 years or longer. Each of the 30 men will be awarded special gifts by the lodge.

In addition, the 29 living past exalted rulers of the lodge will be honored and three new members will be initiated.

Two New Executives Named For DuPont Mylar Positions

Two new executives have been appointed to the Circleville DuPont plant, it was announced today by the company.

David G. Cushing, 41, Wilmington, Del., will replace Dr. Jake T. Nolen as manager of the Mylar Polyester Film Technical Section, effective January 26. William P. Sprague, 40, Clinton, Iowa, succeeds Peter J. Meshkoff as works engineer for the local plant.

Dr. Nolen already has begun work as manager of sales progress for Mylar at Wilmington. Meshkoff has been assigned to Wilmington as special assignment in the Film Department's Manufacturing Division.

Cushing has had wide experience as an industrial engineer in the company's manufacturing operations. He joined DuPont in 1940 as an industrial engineer in dye manufacture at the Chambers Works, Deepwater Point, N. J. He subsequently was assigned to the Louisville, Ky., neoprene plant; the Arlington, N. J., plastics plant; the Engineering Research Laboratory at the DuPont Experimental Station near Wilmington, and to the Jackson Laboratory at Deepwater Point, N. J., where he worked on development of a new process for manufacture of tetraethyl lead.

Since 1952 Cushing has been assigned to the company's Engineering Department in Wilmington as a supervisor in the Engineering Service Division field organization, as manager of the chemical engineering consultants group, and, more recently, as a technical adviser.

CUSHING was born in Washburn, Wis., and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1940 with the degree of bachelor of science in chemical engineering. He is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and is a representative of the Institute of the Chemical Advisory Board of the American Standards Assn.

Cushing is married and has two sons, 8 and 13. Sprague has been associated with DuPont film manufacturing operations since 1945, when he was employed as an engineer at the Buffalo, N. Y., cellophane plant. He later was a research engineer in the cellophane technical section in Buffalo, and then was a personnel supervisor in Wilmington.

Since 1949, he has been assigned to the Clinton, Iowa, cellophane plant as a field engineer, an area supervisor, a maintenance supervisor, and since 1956, as works engineer.

Sprague was graduated from Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College in 1941 with the degree of bachelor of science in mechanical engineering.

He is married and has two sons, 6 and 2.

Final Report Is Made on Coddled Con

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Conclusions in the final report on an investigation into special privileges received by convicted slayer Thomas (Yonnie) Licaoli of Toledo at the Hocking Honor Camp are the same as those made in a preliminary report last month.

M.C. Koblenz, chief of the division of Correction, said today that the Ohio Highway Patrol's investigation showed Licaoli received more than the authorized number of visitors, that he made a number of long distance telephone calls and lived on a special diet because of ulcers.

Licaoli was returned to Ohio Penitentiary during the probe and has been in the prison hospital for a week because of the ulcer condition, officials said. He has lost his status as an honor inmate.

The investigation resulted in the resignation of the camp superintendent, L.A. Thomas Crowe. Ralph M. Durst, second in command, now has taken over camp direction.

Philip Moore International Authority on Art of Puppets

It's possible that no one in the United States can match the background of Philip Moore in the fine art of puppetry.

Moore, 38, of 304 S. Court St., is a puppetry authority in the true sense of the word. He's been in the business since the sixth or seventh grade, along about 1933 or '34.

The list of his experience in the field of puppets, marionettes and marionettes would reach from here to Williamsport.

Included is study in France and Germany.

Just last week Moore created a puppet for a television station in Lexington, Ky. It was the second one for that particular station.

Signatures Not Sufficient

It is revelatory of the climate in which all East-West negotiations take place that while the Free World seeks agreement with Russia for a ban on nuclear testing, it strives also to guard against being struck down in a sneak attack.

Indeed nothing more is needed to emphasize the peril of an unrealistic accord, leaving too much to ethics and morality, with an ideology that is dedicated to our destruction by any means possible.

Western diplomats at Geneva, no matter how high their esteem for their Russian counterparts, are wisely keeping in mind the agonizing truth that they deal not with individuals, but with a way of life in which international honor and the pledged word play a small part.

That is why any agreement to stop the testing of nuclear weapons must be implemented by a foolproof system of detection under which violation and invalidation will be simultaneous. That is why zone arrangements and inspection systems must be written into any treaty under which great powers may promise not to unleash death and destruction by surprise.

Importantly, and distressingly, that is why common ground in East-West negotiations has thus far eluded all attempts to locate it.

There is mutual distrust, and communism's history of duplicity, tyranny and violence makes it clear that democracy's fears are well founded.

Critics of the tedious negotiations at Geneva, current and to come, will do well to realize that in any accord with Moscow, mere signatures will not be sufficient.

Kim Ready To Say 'I Do'

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood's most eligible bachelor gal is ready to say "I do."

But the sea-green eyes of Kim Novak still haven't sighted the right guy on the horizon.

"I'd like to be fulfilled as a woman," she said. "What is a woman without the right man? I'd like to marry and have children."

"But marriage isn't something to rush into just because it's popular or the thing to do. I want more than a good companion, and I want to be more than a good companion."

"Marriage is companionship — plus. You have to give all that you are, and I am prepared to do that."

Anyone particular in mind? "No," she said. "But I'm not really worried about that. It will happen. I feel sure. And meanwhile it's a nice life, being a bachelor."

Actually, Kim gives the impression of being somewhat lonely and not sure whom she can trust. In five years and 10 pictures the slender blonde ex-model has soared from obscurity to become one of filmdom's top 10 stars at the box office.

Now she is paying the price all pay who stand in the limelight, the price of feeling misunderstood.

of being gossiped about, or having her ability questioned.

Shy by nature, she is still a bit uneasy in the role of glamour queen. She also is weary of gossip column tidbits linking her with men she never has met in night clubs where she never has been.

Seated on a chaise lounge in the pink dressing room in the Bronx studio of her latest film, Paddy Chayefsky's "Middle of the Night," costarring Fredric March, she talked of her troubles.

"I have a feeling this is going to be a good year," she said. "Last year was such a bad year—so treacherous—this has to be a good year."

"They had me tied up with every man I ever heard of. That's what I get for being single. Maybe I should have got married when I first went into pictures. They let married women alone."

"It doesn't bother me any more what people say. Oh, yes, it does, too! One day last year when I went on the set I just broke out crying. But I finally got exhausted with it."

"I used to be all exposed. Now I'm covered up."

Some of the things her critics and detractors say about Kim is that she is moody, temperamental, and that her glamour lies wholly in her beauty and not at all in her acting ability.

But her present film crew is behind her to a man. And Chayefsky, no easy one to please, praises Kim.

"She's wonderful to work with, completely cooperative, not at all moody or temperamental," he said. "She has an amazing talent. She is a fine actress."

Kim said of her acting and herself: "It is what people like that is important to my career. They judge your ability, not you."

"I don't like professional things. It's kind of an insult to me when somebody says, 'You're a real pro.' I don't want to be a pro."

"I don't want to be systematic. It's boring when everything is pinpointed and in its place. I don't like life in a set pattern, or perfect people, or the manufactured look. I like the home-made touch."

As to glamour, Kim said: "I'm sure most people don't think of glamour as just looking beautiful or being beautifully dressed. Glamour is interior."

"It's either in you or it isn't. You can dress up glamour or add to it, but you can't take it away or cover it up if it's really there. I hope not, anyway."

A big star, Kim Novak, and also a nice kid looking for truth in a world of glitter.

Psoriasis Causes Worries

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Psoriasis is not usually a dangerous skin disease. It is generally harmless. The real trouble comes with the worry it causes.

Since this chronic skin disease becomes worse in cold weather, I think this is a particularly good time to discuss it.

Actually, we still don't know what causes psoriasis. This is often very difficult for victims to understand. And they sometimes spend considerable money buying this medicine and that one, seeing this healer and that one, in a vain effort to find a permanent cure.

Psoriasis produces dry, scaling patches on the skin. These unsightly patches can appear on just about any part of the body, but generally occur on the scalp, legs, lower back and on the outside of the knees and elbows.

Although they seldom itch, the patches are easily irritated. If they aren't cared for properly, they can spread to other areas.

As with most skin diseases, the victims worry about the affliction, it can't hide their embarrassment over it.

I'd like to emphasize right here, though, that psoriasis is not catching. So if you know that a friend has this disease, don't avoid him. Instead, urge him to seek medical help.

There is no known cure, as I said before. But this doesn't mean we can't treat the disease. Months, and even years, of freedom from it often follow successful treatment.

Just as there are various types of psoriasis, there also are many types of treatment.

Most patients will find ultraviolet light helpful. During the summer a slowly-acquired tan will probably prove beneficial. With most patients, however, even a slight sunburn can be harmful.

At this time of the year, ultraviolet lamps are probably called for. But don't do your own diagnosing, your own treating. Let your doctor tell you what should be done. Then follow his advice.

Psoriasis, like most other diseases, usually responds to the proper treatment. But unless medical care is continued until the patches have disappeared, they are likely to spread to other sections of the body.

Poling Asks Change In Church Stand

NEW YORK (AP)—The next general board meeting of the National Council of Churches will be asked to repudiate a resolution favoring diplomatic recognition and United Nations membership for Red China, it was announced today by the Rev. Daniel A. Poling.

The board meets Feb. 25-26 at Hartford, Conn.

Dr. Poling, editor of the Christian Herald, is a member of a five-man clergyman's committee of the Committee of One Million. The committee announced Sunday a nationwide poll of Protestant clergy showing 87 per cent against recognition or U. N. affiliation for Red China.

The Committee of One Million is an organization supporting the Chinese Nationalists.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anastas I. Mikoyan, home-bound today, left a trail of questions behind him. They can be boiled down to two: why did he come? What was the result of his visit?

A modern form of self-torture is to try to read the Kremlin's mind. Many interpretations have been put on the Soviet deputy premier's visit here.

But the reason for his trip may be this simple: He just wanted to look around and, as a byproduct, create a little good will for the Soviet Union.

So far as is known he didn't budge an inch on anything and neither did the Eisenhower administration.

It's traditional, in thinking of relations between nations, to regard everything one of them does as a profound, stiff, stuffy and highly meaningful move or counter move in high diplomacy.

It might sometimes be more realistic, in the case of the Soviets, to think of some of their actions in simpler terms.

They've broken a lot of diplomatic rules since Nikita Khrushchev became boss and Mikoyan his right-hand man. For example: All the letter writing to President Eisenhower last year on a summit conference.

Khrushchev dropped the whole idea when it suited him. He had made some good propaganda at home with it, and perhaps a little headway with other people.

The Soviets have done the same thing other times, in other ways. They've twisted, turned, dodged, ducked, proposed, and reversed themselves as it suited them.

Why these tactics? One explanation could be that they look on us with contempt, think we're slow and pompous, figure they can jab and poke and dance around us, like kids in a cartoon calling a rich, fat man names and knocking his high silk hat off.

Since neither side wants a shooting war — it costs the Soviet Union nothing to try all sorts of unorthodox things. If it gains a little, good, so long as, if it loses, it doesn't lose much.

The Kremlin didn't figure to lose by sending Mikoyan here. He is well able to take care of himself.

By his visit the Soviet might gain a little goodwill, although that could well be a secondary consideration so long as he got a look around, met some people, and did some talking intended to be beneficial to the Soviet Union.

It shouldn't have been surprising that he neither revealed nor proposed anything new. It would have been surprising if he had.

The Soviets are hard bargainers. For Mikoyan to come here and make concessions, without getting plenty in return, wouldn't have been bargaining.

The fact that he offered nothing new during his trip is pretty good evidence he came for the ride. His visit looks like just one of the impromptu, free-wheeling moves the Soviets have used since Khrushchev came to power.

Soviets Meet Roadblocks

By George Sokolsky

Some months ago, Demaree Bess, one of the more competent editors of "The Saturday Evening Post," wrote:

"...While inflation has ravaged many countries since World War II, our creeping inflation has been held within comparatively narrow bounds. But Soviet strategists have given notice that they expect our luck to change, partly because of our own indifference to economic matters in general and to inflation in particular; partly because of the Kremlin's planned economic warfare against us."

Actually what has happened is that while our luck has not spoiled, Soviet policy has encountered almost disastrous results in several areas:

1. Red China is, not unexpectedly, more orthodox Marxist than Soviet Russia has ever been. The Communist leaders of China found in Marxism an answer to their most pressing problem, namely, how to rid themselves of European superiority. Also there was no such resistance to Marxist ideas among Chinese intellectuals as existed in most European countries, including Soviet Russia, because China is not a Christian country and the Chinese intellectual followers of Confucius and his disciples are pragmatists, materialists and atheists and therefore Marx is in no manner repugnant to them.

Also, neither capitalism nor liberalism ever developed among the Chinese, except spottily in the Treaty Ports and therefore Marxism represents the anti-thesis of foreign imperialism and native feudalism. Hence the Red Chinese are in that stage of development which the Bolsheviks in Russia witnessed immediately after the 1917 Revolution and which Lenin abolished when he introduced the New Economic Policy as a retreat from Marxist orthodoxy.

What evolved in the form called Marxism-Leninism-Stalinism was a mishmash of Marxism plus a kind of state capitalism, plus a police state with slave labor. Red China is frightening the Russians, first because the Left Wing deviation of Mao is as dangerous to the concept of the monolithic Soviet Universal State as the Right Wing deviation of Tito. Suppose Communism goes the way of Protestant Christianity and breaks up in 250, more or less, sects, what becomes of the Kremlin control of an Empire?

2. The Communists believed that they had destroyed Western Europe as a political and economic power and that all they needed to deal with is the United States. No matter whether one favors the Common Market or not, this stands to its credit: Adenauer and de Gaulle have produced the will and the capacity to build power jointly.

Great Britain has at last shown a capacity for economic recovery. De Gaulle has reduced the Communist Party in France and has established a government that is capable of dealing with Thorez and Duclos, who are, after all, Quislings. Western Europe gives every indication of being able both to take advantage of and to resist Russian economic aggression.

True, in the United States the Russians have discovered the Western Achilles' heel, namely, they will find American merchants to sell them shovels and Wall Street bankers to underwrite the transaction. But the Japanese and the Germans knew that long ago and it did not help them. Our allies need not worry about all these businessmen and bankers wining and dining and applauding the Armenian Mikoyan who holds out fat contracts like a rug-dealer holds out bargains.

3. The Russians believed that they had the Arabs sewed up, but Nasser is apparently going through the same experience as Chiang Kai-shek did. It may not be remembered that from 1923 to 1927, Chiang Kai-shek was very close to the Russians and was known in China as the Red General. His advisers were Michael Gordin and General Galens-Bluecher. Then Chiang discovered that he was not the master in his own house. He had become a slave to the Russians. His escape from their clutches was most melodramatic. And beginning with the first months of 1927, he began to drive both the Russians and the Communists out of China.

Nasser seems to be just about in the position that Chiang was in during Christmas week of 1926-27. He fears the Communist power in Syria as Nehru does in Kerala. In a word, these men are catching on to the Soviet game earlier than the Kremlin expected them to.

Khrushchev faces these failures of policy on the eve of the 21st Communist Congress. He sent Mikoyan to the United States to gain him a crumb of success. Did Mikoyan try hard for Khrushchev?

Signatures Not Sufficient

It is revelatory of the climate in which all East-West negotiations take place that while the Free World seeks agreement with Russia for a ban on nuclear testing, it strives also to guard against being struck down in a sneak attack.

Indeed nothing more is needed to emphasize the peril of an unrealistic accord, leaving too much to ethics and morality, with an ideology that is dedicated to our destruction by any means possible.

Western diplomats at Geneva, no matter how high their esteem for their Russian counterparts, are wisely keeping in mind the agonizing truth that they deal not with individuals, but with a way of life in which international honor and the pledged word play a small part.

That is why any agreement to stop the testing of nuclear weapons must be implemented by a foolproof system of detection under which violation and invalidation will be simultaneous. That is why zone arrangements and inspection systems must be written into any treaty under which great powers may promise not to unleash death and destruction by surprise.

Importantly, and distressingly, that is why common ground in East-West negotiations has thus far eluded all attempts to locate it.

There is mutual distrust, and communism's history of duplicity, tyranny and violence makes it clear that democracy's fears are well founded.

Critics of the tedious negotiations at Geneva, current and to come, will do well to realize that in any accord with Moscow, mere signatures will not be sufficient.

Kim Ready To Say 'I Do'

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Hollywood's most eligible bachelor gal is ready to say "I do."

But the sea-green eyes of Kim Novak still haven't sighted the right guy on the horizon.

"I'd like to be fulfilled as a woman," she said. "What is a woman without the right man? I'd like to marry and have children."

"But marriage isn't something to rush into just because it's popular or the thing to do. I want more than a good companion, and I want to be more than a good companion."

"Marriage is companionship — plus. You have to give all that you are, and I am prepared to do that."

Anyone particular in mind? "No," she said. "But I'm not really worried about that. It will happen. I feel sure. And meanwhile it's a nice life, being a bachelor."

Actually, Kim gives the impression of being somewhat lonely and not sure whom she can trust. In five years and 10 pictures the slender blonde ex-model has soared from obscurity to become one of film's top 10 stars at the box office.

Now she is paying the price all pay who stand in the limelight, the price of feeling misunderstood, of being gossiped about, or having her ability questioned.

Shy by nature, she is still a bit uneasy in the role of glamour queen. She also is weary of gossip column tidbits linking her with men she never has met in night clubs where she never has been.

Seated on a chaise longue in the pink dressing room in the Bronx studio of her latest film, Paddy Chayefsky's "Middle of the Night," costarring Fredric March, she talked of her troubles.

"I have a feeling this is going to be a good year," she said. "Last year was such a bad year—so treacherous—this has to be a good year."

"They had me tied up with every man I ever heard of. That's what I get for being single. Maybe I should have got married when I first went into pictures. They let married women alone."

"It doesn't bother me any more what people say. Oh, yes, it does, too! One day last year when I went on the set I just broke out crying. But I finally got exhausted with it."

"I used to be all exposed. Now I'm covered up."

Some of the things her critics and detractors say about Kim is that she is moody, temperamental, and that her glamour lies wholly in her beauty and not at all in her acting ability.

But her present film crew is behind her to a man. And Chayefsky, no easy one to please, praises Kim.

"She's wonderful to work with, completely cooperative, not at all moody or temperamental," he said. "She has an amazing talent. She is a fine actress."

Kim said of her acting and herself: "It is what people like that is important to your career. They judge your ability, not you."

"I don't like professional things. It's kind of an insult to me when somebody says, 'You're a real pro.' I don't want to be a pro."

"I don't want to be systematic. It's boring when everything is pinpointed and in its place. I don't like life in a set pattern, or perfect people, or the manufactured look. I like the home-made touch."

As to glamour, Kim said: "I'm sure most people don't think of glamour as just looking beautiful or being beautifully dressed. Glamour is interior."

"It's either in you or it isn't. You can dress up glamour or add to it, but you can't take it away or cover it up if it's really there. I hope not, anyway."

A big star, Kim Novak, and also a nice kid looking for truth in a world of glitter.

Bug Warfare, a Mystery

Could Few Ounces of Germs Wipe Out New York City?

Editor's Note: Are America's military leaders prepared to defend the nation against an attack using germ warfare? Following is the first of a series of three articles dealing with this mysterious subject.

By ROGER GREENE
WASHINGTON (AP)—Could a few ounces of lethal germ crystals wipe out the population of New York City—even annihilate all life on the North American Continent?

Could plague germs spread by an enemy touch off a nationwide epidemic?

Could enemy planes or saboteurs destroy this country's crops and livestock, reducing the land to starvation?

The truth about gas and germ warfare is shrouded in secrecy and mystery.

Last May the North Atlantic Treaty Organization warned in an official report: "The Russians are capable of waging biological (germ) and chemical warfare on a large scale."

But the United States' policy on the use of these fearful weapons is top secret, says the Pentagon.

One man who presumably should have the answers is Maj. Gen. Marshall Stubbs, chief of the Army Chemical Corps.

Stubbs said frankly he would like to clear up many points of confusion but had been ordered to observe strict silence.

In such an atmosphere of secrecy, it is little wonder that the most lurid distortions and conflicting statements about germ warfare go virtually unchallenged.

Item—Dr. Brock Chisholm, director-general of the United Nations' World Health Organization, says scientists have discovered a substance so deadly that seven ounces would be enough to kill all the people in the world.

Item—Army pamphlet No. 8-12 entitled "What You Should Know About Biological Warfare": "No kind of biological warfare could kill or sicken every person in a large area or city. Talk of one ounce—of toxic material—killing millions is silly."

Item—The British Medical Journal says two or three drops of nerve gas on the skin will kill within 30 minutes; one drop in the eye or a tiny amount inhaled as vapor kills in a few minutes.

Item—Chemical Warfare Service handbook, issued by the Army Chemical Center at Edgewood Arsenal, Md.: "A single droplet of nerve gas in a person's eye could kill him."

What, then, are you supposed to believe in all this welter of conflicting statements?

Tight official silence has created a virtual blackout on authoritative information. Yet the Pentagon, in response to written questions submitted by a reporter, allowed the following sentence to remain among heavily censored answers:

"The Chemical Corps is anxious to put the true facts before the public so that the nature of chemical and biological warfare can be viewed in its proper perspective."

Battle Looms Over Ike's New U.S. Budget

President's Argument On Balance Studied On Business Front

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The battle of the budget is joined today. The President has spelled out how he plans to balance it—larger tax collections from a prospering nation and cuts in some spending.

His argument is that the budget must be balanced if the dollar is to be sound and return the respect of other nations.

Those who minimize the need for balancing the budget argue that the country must grow and that government spending is needed to foster this growth.

But for all the economies the President proposes, the budget isn't small by any means. His plan to spend 77 billion dollars is 3½ billion less than we are spending this year, but it is 5 billion more than we spent the year before.

Interest on the federal debt will go above 8 billion, an increase of 400 million dollars in the year, and one tenth of the total budget. The President also proposes raising the federal debt limit again to allow the Treasury to borrow more. The interest rates it must pay on new security issues continue to rise.

And the President proposes spending as much as ever on a long list of services from health to highways.

If Congress does as the President asks, U.S. citizens will feel it first in the rise sought in gasoline taxes. He also wants an increase in the tax on aviation gasoline.

The President thinks the time has come to take a breather and start no new public works.

The budget suggests that interest rates on mortgages guaranteed by the Veterans Administration be allowed to rise to 5½ per cent and that the ceiling on the volume of mortgage insurance the Federal Housing Administration can provide be removed.

Farmers are on notice today that the President expects that this year's record outlay of 6½ billion dollars for farm benefits can be reduced in the coming fiscal year by nearly one billion. He wants price supports to be reduced gradually.

U of C Details Program for Brighter Kids

CINCINNATI (AP)—They started the plan quietly three years ago at the University of Cincinnati—to see if bright youngsters can use a head start on college.

And Assistant Dean Joseph E. Holliday of the Arts and Sciences College said Sunday:

"On the whole, they do better in college than the average, but there are as many who are not in the program doing just as well."

The program starts in high school where superior students may take college level courses which prepare them for entrance board examinations.

The results go to the student's college choice which may let the student skip some elementary courses or even give college credit for high school courses.

The pilot group comprised nine freshmen who entered UC in 1955. In midwinter of 1956, university officials decided to give the program permanent status. Ohio's six state universities have adopted it.

Authorities say, however, that it's still too early to assess two big questions:

How much will it speed up the student's college career?

How much will it enrich the student's academic training?

Dean at Harvard Named Aide to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today appointed Don K. Price Jr., a Harvard University dean, to his advisory committee on government organization.

Price, who will be 49 Friday, succeeds Nelson A. Rockefeller, who resigned from the committee on becoming governor of New York.

Rockefeller served as chairman of the committee. That job is now being assigned to another member, Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming. The third member of the committee is the President's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University.

Pupils To Select Name Of New School District

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Pupils will suggest names and then vote on the best one, for a new Tri-County Board of Education. It was created by consolidation of districts in Sandusky, Seneca and Wood Counties.

INFANTRY MASCOT—Charlie II 18-month-old lion cub from Frankfurt, Germany, who they say was weaned on beer is shown on his arrival in New York. Mascot of the Mortar Battery, 1st Battle Group, 5th Infantry, he is en route to the Cincinnati, Ohio, zoo, where he'll stay for 30 days before rejoining his owner, Sp. Clarence Watson at Ft. Riley, Kan.

Batista Children Going To Meet Dad

NEW YORK (AP)—The wife of ousted Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista is here on the first leg of a trip to gather four of their children in this country and take them to their father.

Mrs. Marta Batista arrived by plane Sunday night from the Dominican Republic, where her husband took refuge.

Mrs. Batista was accompanied by Lawrence Berenson, Batista's attorney here. She went to the Waldorf Towers to meet two sons, Roberto, 11, and Carlos, 8, who have been staying there since Christmas—shortly before Batista fled Cuba.

Berenson said Mrs. Batista will leave soon with the boys for Daytona Beach, Fla., where two other children, Fulgencio, 4, and Marta Maria, 17 months, are staying with Mrs. Batista's mother.

Trailer Tax Nets $8,864

The Pickaway County Auditor collected $3,864.80 in taxes on house trailers in 1958.

Tax collections on house trailers in Ohio set an all time record last year, despite a sharp decline in most of the large counties where half of the trailer homes are located.

Reports to State Auditor James A. Rhodes by county auditors show a total of $705,987 in taxes collected on house trailers in 1958. This is almost double the collection in 1951 which was the first year that house trailers were taxed.

Montgomery County continued to lead all counties in Ohio in the number of trailer homes on the basis of taxes paid. At the annual $18 tax, the $56,915 collected in Montgomery county indicates at least 3,162 house trailers in the county. Franklin, Lucas, Cuyahoga and Stark follow in this order.

The tax on trailers was enacted 10 years ago to take effect in 1951. The rate was fixed at $18 for a full year, with 25 per cent quarterly reductions. There is talk that the present legislature may change this tax.

Out of the $705,987 that the trailer tax produced last year, schools got $486,561.02; counties, $88,197.21; cities and villages, $49,278.27; townships, $44,732.51 and state $15,774.46.

Atwater PTA Launches Plan For Fun Night

Wheels are turning at Atwater School as the Parent Teachers Assn. prepares for its biggest night of the year—a Family Fun Night—scheduled for February 27.

This is a new event for Atwater. Plans indicate that it probably will be the finest event of the year. Project chairman is Mrs. Doyle R. Painter, 1010 Lynwood Ave.

Organization of the Family Fun Night began last week at a meeting in the Painter home. Attending were Mrs. Don McGregor, PTA chairman; Mrs. Roland Reinhard, program chairman; past president Mrs. Charles Felkey; Principal Mrs. Mary Lamb, and Mrs. Winship Story, representing the school.

Each of the rooms in the school will participate in the festivities. There will be a Spook House, country store, games, candy walk and food.

Ohio Utilities To Face Joint Union Talks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two major unions in the utility field, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the Utility Workers of America, plan to bargain jointly with electrical utility firms in Ohio this year.

William Munger of Cleveland, international UAW vice president, headed a delegation of his union which attended the annual pre-bargaining conference of the IBEW's Ohio State Electrical Utility Board here Sunday.

"We see no reason why we cannot cooperate with you to the hilt," Munger told the IBEW group. He pointed out that the two unions have essentially the same problems and objectives and bargain with some of the same companies.

Between them, the two unions represent nearly all of the public utility workers in Ohio.

This year's round of collective bargaining is expected to begin next week.

Bug Warfare, a Mystery

Could Few Ounces of Germs Wipe Out New York City?

Editor's Note: Are America's military leaders prepared to defend the nation against an attack using germ warfare? Following is the first of a series of three articles dealing with this mysterious subject.

By ROGER GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Could a few ounces of lethal germ crystals wipe out the population of New York City—even annihilate all life on the North American Continent?

Could plague germs spread by an enemy touch off a nationwide epidemic?

Could enemy planes or saboteurs destroy this country's crops and livestock, reducing the land to starvation?

Atomic Knife Is Hailed in Brain Surgery

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Working with an invisible "atomic knife" Swedish scientists have pioneered a brain operation which neither opened the skull nor shed a drop of blood.

The team of brain surgeons and nuclear scientists at the Gustav Werner Institute for Nuclear Chemistry at Upsala University destroyed diseased tissue with an American-invented proton ray.

The operation was performed on a man at 55, the team disclosed in radio and television interviews. By destroying a piece of tissue three millimeters thick inside the patient's skull, he was cured painlessly of a serious mental depression.

The man left the hospital two days later. A similar operation carried out by orthodox lobotomy would have required weeks of preparation and a long period of recovery.

Prof. Lars Leksell of Lund University, who supervised the operation, expressed belief the new method can be applied to ease many chronic pains, for treatment of Parkinson's disease and for certain mental illnesses.

Proton rays, the positive charged unit of the atom nucleus, penetrated the patient's brain from 18 directions during the two-hour operation, said Prof. Bro. Rexed of Upsala, one of the six-man team.

The atomic knife was supplied by the synchrocyclotron, one of only two in the world suitable for this kind of operation. The other is at the University of California at Berkeley.

tears destroy this country's crops and livestock, reducing the land to starvation?

The truth about gas and germ warfare is shrouded in secrecy and mystery.

Last May the North Atlantic Treaty Organization warned in an official report: "The Russians are capable of waging biological (germ) and chemical warfare on a large scale."

But the United States' policy on the use of these fearful weapons is top secret, says the Pentagon.

One man who presumably should have the answers is Maj. Gen. Marshall Stubbs, chief of the Army Chemical Corps.

Stubbs said frankly he would like to clear up many points of confusion but had been ordered to observe strict silence.

In such an atmosphere of secrecy, it is little wonder that the most lurid distortions and conflicting statements about germ warfare go virtually unchallenged.

Item — Dr. Brock Chisholm, director-general of the United Nations' World Health Organization, says scientists have discovered a substance so deadly that seven ounces would be enough to kill all the people in the world.

Item — Army pamphlet No. 8-12 entitled "What You Should Know About Biological Warfare": "No kind of biological warfare could kill or sicken every person in a large area or city. Talk of one ounce — of toxic material — killing millions is silly."

Item — The British Medical Journal says two or three drops of nerve gas on the skin will kill within 30 minutes; one drop in the eye or a tiny amount inhaled as vapor kills in a few minutes.

Item — Chemical Warfare Service handbook, issued by the Army Chemical Center at Edgewood Arsenal, Md.: "A single droplet of nerve gas in a person's eye could kill him."

What then, are you supposed to believe in all this welter of conflicting statements?

Tight official silence has created a virtual blackout on authoritative information. Yet the Pentagon, in response to written questions submitted by a reporter, allowed the following sentence to remain among heavily censored answers:

"The Chemical Corps is anxious to put the true facts before the public so that the nature of chemical and biological warfare can be viewed in its proper perspective."

Oil Firm Chief Raps Ike Budget

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank O. Prior, board chairman of Standard Oil Co. (Indiana) today called the President's recommended boost in the gasoline tax "totally unnecessary."

"The proposed increase in the federal gasoline tax is grossly unfair, and it is totally unnecessary," Prior said in a statement.

"If the existing federal automotive excise taxes that now are being diverted to the Treasury's general fund were applied to this (federal interstate) road program, there would be adequate money to complete it on schedule."

"I think that motorists must be fed up with their present tax load, when federal and state taxes on gasoline amount to 41 per cent of the retail price."

Ohio Food Jobs Listed in Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—These appropriations for flood control, navigation, power and reclamation projects are proposed by President Eisenhower for the 12 months beginning July 1, 1959:

OHIO—Cleveland Harbor $400,000; New Cumberland Locks and Dam, Ohio and W. Va., $6,800,000; Pike Island Locks and Dam, Ohio and W. Va., $3,500,000; Dillon Reservoir $5,160,000; Roseville $284,000.

Subpoenas Under Fire in Labor Probe

CLEVELAND (AP)—A legal attack on the federal government's attempt to subpoena three labor leaders and some of their records will at least delay the trio's appearance before a federal grand jury.

Thursday afternoon Judge James C. Connell will conduct a hearing on a petition to quash subpoenas which had been issued to William Finegan, Thomas E. McDonald and William Goldberg.

They had been summoned to appear as witnesses Wednesday. All are officers in the Cleveland AFL-CIO Federation, and they had been asked to bring with them records of the old Cleveland Federation of Labor. Most of the records which were requested were concerned with the Teamsters Union.

And several members of the Teamsters organization, which is headed here by William Presser, have been reported as receiving subpoenas.

It also was reported that Frank Brancato and John De Marco were among those summoned. Brancato, who had a police record in prohibition days, was subpoenaed several years ago by the Kefauver investigating committee. DeMarco has been identified as having attended a hoodlum convention at Applachin, N. Y., in 1957.

The subpoenas issued to Finegan, McDonald and Goldberg were attacked Monday in petitions filed by attorneys William J. Corrigan and Fred W. Garmone.

They said the witnesses were called to testify in the case of the United States vs. . . . and contended no one can testify for one against a blank. They called the current grand jury investigation a "fishing expedition."

New United Presbyterian Synod Meets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The new United Presbyterian Synod of Ohio, meeting for the first time Monday, elected a Steubenville minister as its moderator.

The Rev. George W. Martin, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Steubenville, was named moderator in the organization meeting of the new synod of the Broad Street Presbyterian Church.

The meeting merged on the synod (state) level the United Presbyterian Church of North American and the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. into the new synod, United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

The session, uniting 716 congregations, including 262,000 members in Ohio, resulted from the union of the two groups in Pittsburgh last May.

In today's meeting, the Rev. Harry W. Eberts Jr. of Marietta was named vice moderator, the Rev. Albert W. Wright, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Columbus, as stated clerk, and the Rev. George A. Johnson of Ash-tabula and the Rev. J. Paul Graham of Canton, as permanent clerks.

A. C. Moore and Paul Arnold, both of Columbus, were elected treasurer and assistant treasurer, respectively.

Despondent Motorist Explains Ominous Note

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP)—The hastily scrawled note found in a car abandoned on a busy expressway had an ominous note: "Can't make a go of it. Anyone who finds this car can have it."

With the frozen expanses of a reservoir close by and no sign of the owner, police theorized the owner had decided to end it all. A search of the area proved fruitless.

Later the owner was traced to his home in Bernard, Maine. Kenneth Card, 28, said he was en route to Hartford, Conn., when his 1947 auto conked out. He abandoned it and hitch-hiked home. Card deciphered the note to read: "Can't make it go."

Darby Climbs to 8th in State Basketball Ratings

Northwestern, East Tech Still Top Cage List

Last Year's Ohio Champions Popular; But Not So Buckland

The Darby Trojans rose from 28th position to eighth in the weekly Associated Press poll this week, on the basis of their 12 straight wins without a defeat.

Darby's sensational win over Jacksontown wasn't even considered in this week's poll and may raise it even higher in the weeks to follow.

This is the first time since the great days of Ashville in the early 40's that a Pickaway County team has been so high up the "ladder". Darby's tremendous season so far has been the responsibility of Coach Ned Reichelderfer and his aggregation of two seniors and three juniors.

Seniors are John Drummond and David Musselman. Juniors are Tommy Walters, Tommy Liff and Alvin Cox.

Cleveland East Tech and Northwestern of Wayne County topped Ohio's high school basketball teams today in the weekly Associated Press poll, but little Buckland of Auglaize County nudged in for a share of the spotlight.

While everyone else is bragging about long winning streaks and championship aspirations, the little village of 274 is doing it in a reverse.

Buckland was tramped 89-46 by Minster Friday night, extending the loser's string of defeats to an even 40. Buckland hasn't won a game since 1936, and has an 0-13 record for the year.

The losing record is just the opposite of that boasted by Class A champion Northwestern, which has piled up more than that many victories in a stretch, including 14 this season.

Forty-nine sports writers for Associated Press newspapers and radio-television stations participated in this week's statewide rating—and they piled up huge majorities for the defending kings.

East Tech grabbed 23 first place votes and 385 poll points on the 10-9-8-etc ballot basis. Elyria holds second in Class AA with 265. Northwestern got ten of the top nodes in Class A, along with 231 poll points. Geneva Spencer and Norwalk St. Paul were deadlocked for second with 95, with Newark Central Catholic only two points further back.

Hamilton lost to Middletown, and Toledo Scott to Toledo Central last week, the losers surrendering their "top 10" berths to Fostoria and Chillicothe. Salem Local and Lynnwood-Jacksontown skidded from the Class A elite list, with Darby Twp. and Convoyn Union moving in.

Hiland of Holmes County has 11 lettermen. The school, in its first year, is a consolidation of Walnut Creek and Berlin. The Hilanders have won 11 and lost once, a 63-59 bow to champion Northwestern.

"Spiv" Harris, sports editor of the Mount Vernon News these many years, wrote last week that his "Yellow Jacks" have a chance to set an all-time Mount Vernon losing streak," just before the game with unbeaten Bexley. The Jacks, who had dropped six in a row, rose up and handed Bexley a 62-56 setback, after which the basketball squad dunked balding 46-year-old 135-pound "Spiv" in a shower as dubious recognition for having inspired the conquest.

Geneva Spencer's stingy Wildcats, who have allowed 11 foes an average of 29.9 per game, surrendered only 24 to Ashtabula

Full Slate of 20 Games Face County in 12th Week of Play

A total of 20 games are on tap this week among Pickaway County and area teams as the season moves into its 12th week of heated battle.

Five county league frays will be played, one tonight and four Friday. Top action tonight pits Williamsport at Atlanta as the Red Raiders seek revenge for an earlier league defeat by the Deers, 63-61.

Williamsport is 8-6 on the season and sixth in league play with a 3-4 record. Atlanta stands 4-9 overall and holds ninth in the league with a 1-6 slate.

Scioto and Saltcreek tangle tonight on the Warrior court in the night's only county league battle. The Buffaloes are 9-2 on the year with a 5-1 league record for second place.

SALT CREEK is 5-4 on the season and tied for third place in the league with a 4-2 slate. The Warriors and Gary Valentine, 21-4, will have their hands full with Scioto's Ernie Milburn, 13-8, and Dick Melvin, 24-1.

Hapless New Holland travels to Good Hope for a league contest with Madison Mills. The Bulldogs are 1-11 on the year and hold a league record of 1-4.

Stoutsville enters the rugged part of its Fairfield County League schedule as it meets Liberty Union on the opponents' court. The Indians are in second place in the league with a 5-1 slate and stand 10-3 overall.

Laurelville, 7-6, plays at South-eastern in a non-league fray. Final game of the night pits Reynoldsburg, Franklin County, versus Amanda, 2-10, on the Aces floor.

Friday a full slate of 11 contests is slated. The four county league games find Ashville at Monroe; Pickaway at Atlanta; Saltcreek at Jackson, and Walnut at Williamsport.

The Broncos, 6-8, are tied for league third place with a 4-2 record. Monroe, 5-8, are in a sixth place league tie with a 3-4 slate.

THE PIRATES, 3-7, are the hard luck team of the county, at one time losing five games by a total margin of seven points. Pickaway is in the league's eighth position with a 2-4 record.

Walnut, 4-7, holds down fifth slot in the league with an even 3-3 record. The Tigers' Boyd Barr, 15-9, will give the Deers some trouble when they meet Friday.

The eighth ranked team in the state, the Darby Trojans, meets a tough Jonathan Alder, which handed Ashville a 63-50 defeat earlier in the year. The game will be played at Alder.

New Holland runs into Scioto on the Buffalo court. Two Ross County League games find Centralia at Southeastern and Paint Valley meeting Kingston.

The Bulldogs should cop a victory in this one. They stand 7-8 overall and 2-4 in league play. The Redskins face undefeated and league leading Paint Valley. Kingston is 7-7 on the year and are out of the league race with a 1-4 slate.

Pickerington travels to Stoutsville for the Indians' roughest contest to date. If the Indians' win one, this should be the game. Pickerington ranks 22nd in the state and leads the Fairfield County league with a 6-0 slate.

LAURELVILLE invades Murray City for a repeat battle. The Wildcats downed Murray, 69-40, in their first tussle. Stoutsville upsets Carroll, invade the domain of Amanda for a Fairfield league game. The Aces, rebuilding, stand 2-10 overall and 1-6 in the league.

Saturday, three games will be played. Darby meets the pride of Fayette County, Madison Mills, at Bloomingburg. Kingston battles at Pickaway in a tussle of arch rivals. Kingston won the first set, 54-40, but the Pirates have been improving.

Final contest of the week finds Scioto battling Canal Winchester which features the play of Alspach, a fine scorer.

Col. George Simler, Air Force Academy athletic director, captained and played end for Maryland when it played a 20-20 Gator Bowl tie with Georgia in 1948.

Edgewood Friday in a 60-24 victory. Ang Vaccaro's Steubenville Big Red is on the move with a 7-1 record, the lone loss to Schenley High of Pittsburgh, Pa., in an overtime. Ang has a 187-89 record for his 13 years with the Big Red—and hopes to hit the 200 mark this campaign.

Convoy Union, which moved into the Class A top ten today, is coached by Paul Bricker, a veteran of 24 years of roundball tutoring. His team is averaging 79 against 43 for 15 straight wins.

Chillicothe, newcomer in the Class AA listings, overcame a 17-11 deficit, outscored Marietta 51-29 in the last half, and won 73-48. Bill Smith, a Mecca sophomore leads the potent Trumbull County scorers with 365 points and an average of 28.

Athens High School is a novelty—there isn't a six-footer on the team, but the boys have a 7-3 record.

Bob Hanev of Valley (Scioto) poured in 35 Friday to hike his nine-game total to 252. Salem's Woody Deitch, averaging 19.2, has been on a spree the last five games with totals of 26, 24, 25, 25 and 18.

SPORTS

The Circleville Herald, Tuesday, Jan. 20, 1959
Circleville, Ohio

Shadley Out With Chipped Bone Injury

Bob Shadley, regular forward on the Circleville Tiger cage squad, probably will be lost for the remainder of the season with a chipped bone in his left elbow.

Shadley suffered the injury in the test here Saturday night with Chillicothe. The chipped bone resulted from a sharp fall after a scramble for the ball.

The CHS junior, tallest man on the squad, was removed from the game immediately. X-rays that night and the following day revealed a definite chip.

According to Shadley's doctor, the steady cager will be out of action for at least six weeks. His availability for district tournament play will depend on how soon and how well the injury heals.

SHADLEY, a junior, will be required to carry the arm in a sling for the present. A cast for injury was not needed.

The loss represents a serious blow for the Tigers who are making a strong bid to cop the South Central Ohio League this season. Shadley has been a regular starter and one of the team's top scorers in the 10 games to date.

Joe Adkins, the Tigers' sixth man most of this season, probably will get the nod to replace Shadley. Also available are Dick Gerhardt and Bill Purcell, two cagers who saw action against Chillicothe Saturday night.

St. Louis Recalls 'Gashouse Gang'

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The 1934 St. Louis Cardinal "Gashouse Gang" National League and world champions, were honored at a Baseball Writers of America Assn. banquet here Monday night as "the most colorful team to ever represent this city."

The banquet was in observation of the silver anniversary of the Cardinals' downfall. During the speaking Ken Boyer, present third baseman of the Cardinals, announced that he had signed a new contract.

Some 1,630 fans turned out to pay homage to the 1934 club and heard some of the members of that team including Leo Durocher, Rip Collins, Joe Medwick and Pepper Martin, recall anecdotes of the swashbuckling crew.

Col. George Simler, Air Force Academy athletic director, captained and played end for Maryland when it played a 20-20 Gator Bowl tie with Georgia in 1948.

Pickaway Takes Southwest Junior High Tourney

The Pickaway Pirates moved into the semi-finals of the Pickaway County junior high basketball tournament with two victories in the Southwest district.

The Pirates recorded a 26-22 win over Washington, Saturday, on the Saltcreek floor and then blasted host Saltcreek, 32-18 yesterday afternoon.

Tom Huffines and Curtis Adams let the Pirates in their cage victory over Washington with eight points each. Holland and Fowler garnered all but two of their teams' points with 10 markers apiece.

Saltcreek was never in the game against Pickaway as the Pirates jumped to a 6-2 first quarter lead and held a 12-8 halftime advantage.

The roof fell in on the Warriors in the third period as Pickaway raced to a 26-9 margin, holding Saltcreek to one point. Huffines and Adams each tallied 12 and 10 points respectively.

The Warriors were led by Hedges and Hardman with five points each. Pickaway will meet the winner of the Southeast district at 7 p. m. Saturday at Jackson.

SPORTS BRIEFS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Once-beaten Kentucky is back atop The Associated Press weekly rankings today in a quick shuffle of the top four clubs.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks has been named to retain his National Basketball Assn. scoring lead.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Take it from a man who knows: The 16 foot vault and perhaps even the 17 will be common in a few years because of springer poles.

The Rev. Bob Richards, retired U.S. Olympic pole vault champion, said vaults of 16 feet would have been achieved much sooner if modern poles were available.

Minnesota's Golden Gophers, who haven't won a Big Ten basketball title in 22 years, are showing the other conference teams they mean business.

NEW YORK (AP)—Organized baseball today was faced with its first serious strike threat in an auto accident a year ago, was involved in another crash Monday.

Myers Grabs 1st In Scoring Race

After losing first place in the Pickaway County individual scoring race for one week and tying for first place another week, Williamsport's David Myers assumes sole leadership for the eighth time.

Myers held down first position this week on the basis of a 24.5 average, dropping one tenth of a point from last week.

Myers shared and lost the lead for two weeks to Scioto's Dickie Melvin who now holds a strong second place with a 24.1 average. The Buffalo guard dropped half a point last week.

Ashville's Bobby Hoover's average took 0.3 of a point dip last week but he retained third slot with a 22.9 average. As the season develops, Hoover has begun sharing scoring honors with freshmen teammates Tom Rathburn and Dick Hollenback.

RATHBURN led scoring in the Ashville-Williamsport encounter last Friday for the first time in 14 games. Hoover has led in all the rest.

Though idle this week, Saltcreek's Gary Valentine held down fourth place with a 22.3 average. Fifth slot went to Jackson's Charlie Galloway with a 21.2 average, losing 0.7 of a point from the previous week.

Pickaway's Harry Lee maintained his stellar scoring pace and retained sixth place with a 21.1 average, almost displacing Galloway in fifth. Lee's average dropped 0.1 of a point.

Darby's Tommy Walters continued to lead his teammates toward their most successful season in the history of the school. The Trojans carry a 12-0 overall and Walters holds down seventh place with a 19.4 average.

The nifty Trojan guard gained 0.8 of a point with 24 and 23 performances against rugged Pickaway and Jacksontown quintets.

Atlanta's Ronnie Morris gained 0.2 of a point last week, but not enough to prevent Jackson's Jerry Brigner to tie him for eighth place with 18.3 average.

BRIGNER'S AVERAGE jumped 1.2 points on the basis of two 25 point games. Walnut's Boyd Barr

Campanella Hits More Bad Luck

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—"I don't know what else could happen to me."

That was Roy Campanella's reaction today to his close brush with serious injury in a second automobile accident.

Campanella, ex-Los Angeles Dodgers' catcher, who was paralyzed from the waist down in an auto accident a year ago, was involved in another crash Monday.

Mt. Sterling Club Plans Polio Dance

The Mt. Sterling Western Horse Club will sponsor its annual Polio Dance January 31 at Darby High School.

Music will be provided by The Melodiers, with Toad Reid serving as caller for the square dances.

Proceeds from this dance are donated to polio and other crippling disease funds. The money is divided between Pickaway and Madison Counties.

Wife Knows Her Man Best

DEAR ABBY: I have been riding back and forth from work with a married man—I am single. I didn't ask HIM, he asked ME. At first he had other riders but it ended up just the two of us. His wife called me up and told me that she didn't like the idea of just the two of us riding together, so I am now taking the bus. There was nothing between us and I was insulted. Did she have a right to do this?

TAKING THE BUS
DEAR TAKING: His wife shouldn't have called you—she could have handled it by speaking to her husband. She guessed wrong this time, but depend on it—she knows her husband better than you do.

DEAR ABBY: I am very much interested in a beautiful young woman who is very quiet and extremely secretive about her past. She once told me that she has been married and divorced twice and has had a third marriage annulled. She is not yet 20. I am 28, a mining engineer, and have never been married. She is the first girl I've ever been in love with. When I try to get her to tell me more about herself she says she is living in the present, not the past. Do you think her past is important? Should I insist on knowing more about her or has she a right to keep her past a secret?

NORM
DEAR NORM: You don't need a geiger counter to know there is plenty of still water running deep under the surface here. With the record history has for repeating itself, excavate a lot deeper before getting any more involved.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow who has raised a daughter to be a nice respectable young lady. She is now 21 years old and holds down a good job. She has been going for two years with a fellow who talks marriage to her but he is slippery about making anything official. Since I have no husband to talk to him, do you think I should do the talking and find out what his intentions are with my daughter? In my day, a fellow wasn't allowed to waste a girl's time.

WHAT TO DO?
DEAR WHAT: In your well-meaning efforts to "save" time, you could lose the fellow. Let your daughter find out what his intentions are.

DEAR ABBY: I am almost 13. Me and about seven other girls went to the show the other night and all sat together except me and another girl. We sat in the back row because we knew our boyfriends were coming and we saved them seats. When the boys came they sat with us. We held hands a little but that's all. One of the other girls told her mother that me and this girl and our boyfriends were carrying on something disgraceful and my mother heard about it. Now she won't let me go to the show. Even with girls. Is this fair, Abby?

KAREN
DEAR KAREN: When you go to the show with girls you should all sit together. A girl shouldn't go to meet a boy unless she asks her mother's permission first.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HOWIE"
You might have been bred in Minnesota, but you were "battered up" in Wisconsin. Get better acquainted with her before you give her the ring.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Spirit of Dixie Arises in Cincy

CINCINNATI (AP)—Confederate money hasn't shown up yet but the South arose again today. At least the Confederate flag did. When teachers and pupils arrived at Cincinnati's Walnut Hills High School they found a Confederate flag flapping in the breeze from the school's flagpole.

Pranksters who raised the flag fixed the pole in such a manner that it also went to the top of the flagpole and the flag couldn't be hauled down. Principal Richard W. Mecham sent out a call for long extension ladders.

School officials figured the fact this was Robert E. Lee's birthday had something to do with it.

Young Writer Amazed By Own Punch Line

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—An earnest young man circulated an open letter in the Indiana General Assembly Monday urging creation of a governor's youth council to help teen-agers. He looked puzzled by the resulting hilarity. The letter's punch line: "The juvenile delinquent of today is the senator or representative of tomorrow."

Lady Driver Picks Bad Spot to Crash

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Helen A. Shreffler of near Batavia picked a bad place to let her automobile get out of control. The State Highway Patrol recently moved into new quarters in nearby Mount Carmel and today Mrs. Shreffler's car went out of control on slick road and knocked down the patrol's brand new neon sign.

Mrs. Shreffler was charged with driving too fast for existing road conditions.

Federal Law Asked To Help Control Youth

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress was asked today to help state authorities get together for better supervision of juveniles.

A main purpose of the legislation introduced by Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY) of the House Judiciary Committee would be to facilitate interstate arrangements so that a youngster under court supervision in one state could be kept under supervision in another if the family moved. The states also would be authorized to agree on arrangements for detention and return of runaways and delinquents, and joint building and operation of specialized institutions.

Celler said in an accompanying statement that at least 200,000 boys and girls run away every year and states are handicapped in dealing with such problems "because of the almost complete lack of uniformity in policy and practice."

He said 25 states have asked for the kind of legislation he introduced, and which the House—not the Senate—passed last year. The states, he said, are: Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Indiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Utah, Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming, and the Territory of Hawaii.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow who has raised a daughter to be a nice respectable young lady. She is now 21 years old and holds down a good job. She has been going for two years with a fellow who talks marriage to her but he is slippery about making anything official.
